

GERSON S. SHER

Gerson S. Sher, PhD is a retired civil servant and foundation executive who has devoted his career to the intersection of scientific cooperation, international affairs, and global security, primarily with the countries of the former Soviet Union. He was Program Coordinator for U.S.-Soviet and East European Programs at the National Science Foundation, from which he is retired; Chief Operating Officer of George Soros's International Science Foundation (on assignment from NSF); Founding President of the U.S. Civilian Research and Development Foundation for the Independent States of the Former Soviet Union (now CRDF Global); and President of the United States Industry Coalition. He is currently serving as a member of the Board of International Advisors of the National Research Foundation of Ukraine.

Gerson's publications include From Pugwash to Putin: A Critical History of US-Soviet Scientific Cooperation (Bloomington: Indiana University Press [IUP], 2019; Chinese translation 2022 through China Science and Technology Press), and Praxis: Marxist Criticism and Dissent in Socialist Yugoslavia (IUP, 1977) and other books and articles on US-Soviet and post-Soviet scientific cooperation, Marxist intellectual history, and nuclear security and safety. He received a B.A. in Russian Studies from Yale University and a Ph.D. in Politics from Princeton University. In 2008, he received an Honorary Doctorate from the Moscow Physics-Engineering Institute.
